

5. Decorate the book

Now embellish the book with decorative paper, stickers, drawings, or anything else you would like to put on it. Add a label, and you're ready to write!

Diagrams for sewing book:

Make sure you pull the string snug as you sew.

KEY

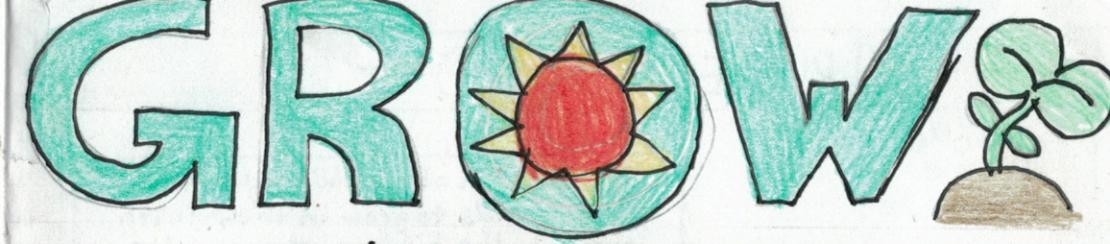

- = string on back cover of book
- = string on front cover of book

TREE BALL

This game was invented by my 11-year-old brother Noah. It is sort of like rugby, so there may be a few casualties - be careful!

Find a flat area with two trees opposite each other. (about 10 or more meters apart)* Separate into teams of 1 to 3. If you have more than one player on each team, one should be the goalie. One of the players (a goalie if you have one) kicks the ball into the middle of the field to start the game. A team has to hit the opposite team's tree with the ball, and if they succeed their team gets a point. You are allowed to tackle players on the opposite team, but no hitting, biting, kicking etc. The goalie cannot tackle anyone, but he can be passed to. Play until one team reaches a certain amount of points; 3 for a short game, 7 or 10 for longer.

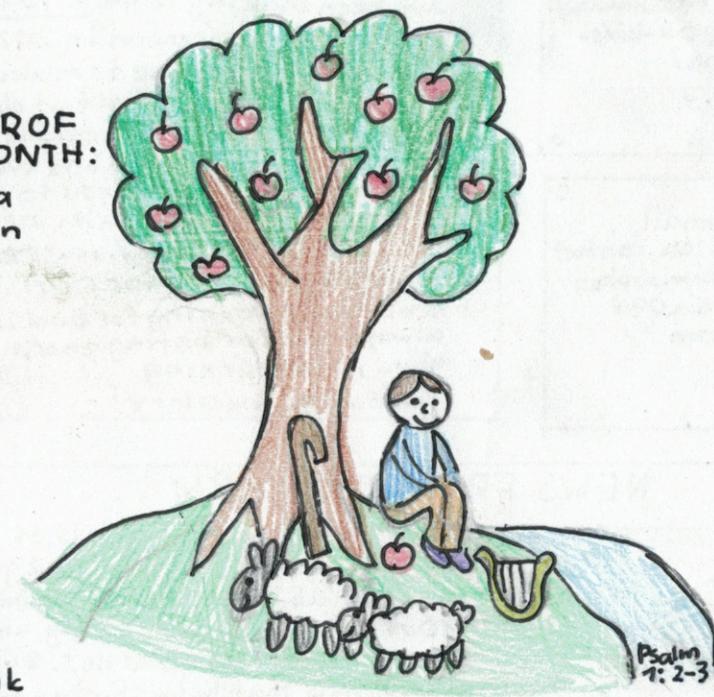

* A meter is about a yard. (3 feet)

KID'S CHRISTIAN MAGAZINE
October 2022 Anniversary Edition

MANNER OF THE MONTH:

Using a Napkin

Gluten-free pumpkin Scones

CHARACTER CHALLENGE:
Memorizing God's Word

Psalm 1:2-3

SERIAL STORY:
Charlie Chipmunk on Noah's Ark Chapter 5

Stitch-bound Book

softback = soft-bound book

$$141 \text{ ଟଙ୍କା } + 545 = 686$$

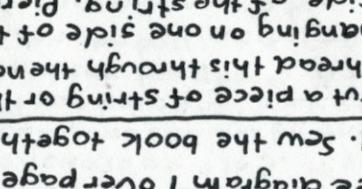

1. Make the book cover
Use a ruler and pencil to draw a 12×25 cm rectangle onto the paper, then use scissors to cut it out. Firmly crease it down the middle to make the front and back cover to fit out. Fold the corners inwards, then use glue to stick them together.

2. Prepare the pages
Use a ruler and pencil to draw 10×23 cm rectangles onto the paper, then use scissors to cut it out. About six to ten pages is a good number to begin with (remember, you'll be folding them in half) Firmly crease the pages down the middle. Centre your pages inside your cover, lining them up exactly with binners (clips). Close pages together securely with binners.

3. Pierce the stitching holes *

Do make four evenly spaced holes down the spine of your book, use your ruler and pencil to draw a vertical line 1.5 cm from the right edge of the spine. Then make marks down your vertical line every 2.5 cm (1 in). Use these marks to indicate where the holes will be punched. Use the awl (or hammer and chisel) to carefully punch through the cover and pages where you made your marks to create four holes.

4. Sew the book together
Cut a piece of string or thread about 120 cm long (48 in) and tie a knot on one end, leaving about 20 cm (8 in) hanging this length through the needle, then pull the string through the side of the stitching. Pierce the needle through the middle of the spine from the inside out. Tie a knot on the long tail of the string, then pull the needle through the side of the stitching again. Pull the needle through the middle of the spine from the outside in. Repeat this until the entire length of the string has been used.

5. See diagram 7 over page

Find out! Read Exodus 14:13-14

- Hi everyone! We've been doing lots of fun things this month like playing a game campfire! I like sitting around a campfire to get to know my family better. We have a bonfire every year at our church basecamp. It's so much fun to sit around a campfire and tell stories. The best part is getting to roast marshmallows and s'mores. I love roasting marshmallows over the fire because it's so delicious. I also like to play games like hide and seek or tag. It's always a lot of fun to play outside with my family. This spring we have been learning about butterflies. We have been reading books about them and watching videos. We even made butterfly puppets out of paper plates. It was so much fun to learn about butterflies and how they change from caterpillars to butterflies. I can't wait to see more butterflies this summer!

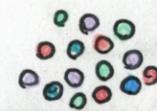

NEWS FROM THE FARM

- ① Can you believe that this is the 25th edition of Grow magazine? I've been making it for 2 years! It began one afternoon in 2020 when God inspired me to make a magazine to hand out at church and youth group. If it had been a hobby, I probably would have left enthusiasm quickly and never made this pass as quickly and every month God gave me another member, working harder than one! But enthusiasm always rewards or burns out if it's always rewarding and it is!

- The mission of GROW magazine is to help kids grow in their faith through the Bible and character-building activities while having fun.

BULLETIN BOARD

gossiping and being silly in general. Not every jay was like that, though. Some were very kind and generous. We talked on for a long time about our families and the places we knew. It turned out that my grandfather had saved her great-uncle from a hunter's trap. As it grew cooler, a squawking caused both me and the dove, whose name was Christie, to look around. There was a raven, as black as coal and with a mean smile. "Jailbird! Jailbird!" He jeered. "Think you're so brave for gettin' out of your cage!" "Stop that at once, Jasper," ordered Christie. But Jasper merely redoubled his efforts. "Charlotte's gonna die! Charlotte's gonna die! Good riddance, I say. Chipmunks are nothing but trouble." "Stop it, Jasper." repeated the dove firmly. "You leave him alone." "Na, na, na-na, na!" He replied rudely, lunging at her. But Christie was too quick for him. She dodged his beak and flew off down the hallway with him in fierce pursuit. I blinked back tears as I watched them go. "He's right," I thought miserably. "Charlotte is going to die." Christie's presence had been like a ray of light, but now that she had gone, my dark thoughts returned.

But about fifteen minutes later, I was surprised to see the dove return. "Hi again," she said, out of breath but smiling. "I lost Jasper in the corridors. He's one of the fastest flyers out of the birds, but I got away from him. Don't worry, he won't be back, at least today. He always flies around, bullying the other animals. I think the reason he's so mean is because he's scared." "Scared?" I questioned. "Scared of being teased himself, I guess."

"Did you know he only has five toes?" "What?" I exclaimed. "Yep. One was cut off in a trap. I wish he would realise that most of us don't mind how many toes he has...." She looked off down the corridor. "But how did he know about Charlotte?" I asked. "Everyone knows about it," she replied. "James the Jay heard all about it and then flew through the whole ark yelling the news to everyone." She chuckled. "I'd better go now. It's almost feeding time. Goodbye!" she said. "Goodbye!" I called as she flew away. This time my good spirits lasted and throughout the long days, Christie visited me as often as she could. But Charlotte was never far from my mind and I hoped with all my heart that she would get better.

Gluten-free PUMPKIN SCONES

=13-19

Ingredients:

- 1 flax 'egg' (1tbsp ground flaxseeds mixed with 3tbsp water).
- 1 cup dates, soaked in boiling water to soften. 2 tbs p coconut-sugar. 1 cup coconut milk or nut milk. 1/2 cup mashed, cooked pumpkin. Zest and juice of 1 orange. 2 1/2 cups gluten-free spelt flour or rice flour. 5 tsp baking powder. pinch of salt

1	Preheat oven to 200°C Line a baking tray with baking paper Mix the flaxseed + water together to make the flax 'egg'. Let sit for 5-10 mins until it thickens.
2	In a bowl, mix together the dates (roughly chopped), flax egg, coconut sugar, milk, Pumpkin, and zest and juice of an orange. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt into the bowl
3	Fold the mixture lightly with a spoon until a soft dough is formed. Turn the dough onto a well-floured surface and pat to 1-2cm thick. Cut into rounds about 5cm across with a cutter or glass jar. Continue until all the dough has been cut into rounds.
4	Place the scones onto the lined baking tray. Bake for 12 minutes, then allow to cool on a wire rack. These are definitely best eaten warm, as they go a bit gummy when cool, but you can store them in the fridge and reheat when needed, or freeze in an airtight container.
5	Enjoy the scones on their own, with a dollop of coconut yoghurt, or slathered with butter and honey
TIP	You can get coconut sugar, rice flour, and spelt flour at a health food store. If you can't get them, you could substitute wheat flour and white sugar

From TWO RAW SISTERS by Margo and Rosa Flanagan

(Cage is a lot bigger in real life - Chimpunks are bigger too)

I awoke one morning, long time before I went to sleep, and when I awoke the first thing I saw was Edens' worried face peering through the wire on the door of my cage. Then I remembered that night I lay awake wondering - What if Charlie, the chimpunk, and his Adventures on Noah's Ark and didn't have any more chimpunks? What if all chimpunks - kind was annihilated? When I grew old and died too, there would be no more chimpunks!

That night I lay awake wondering - What if Charlie was a lone, lonely chimpunk - like me? What if Charlie never had anyone to talk to? What if he never had anyone to have someone to love? "I'd love to take a bite," she said, "I'd love to have someone to talk to!" Those days... "She shook her head and said, "She sounds good," I said, "I'd love to have someone to take a bite," she said, "I'm sorry to hear that."

"Worse," I sighed, "The humans took her to their room to keep pure white feathers and strong wings. "How's Charlotte?" I smile replied the scowl on my face as I admired her awhirl of wings. I looked up - and there was the door! sad, occasionally nibbling at a nut. Suddenly I heard I passed the next few hours sitting in my cage and feeling down the corridor. I had never felt so alone.

Hearts sank as I watched them slowly make their way carefully picking up Charlie little by little. My gentle hands moved her to our cabin where we can keep an eye on her. "Good idea," replied Shem. He gently and firmly move her to our cabin where we can keep an eye after all she's worsening", she replied. "Maybe we should move her to our cabin where we can keep an eye on her. "How's she doing, Eden?" He asked curiously. "I'm smiling. "Here's your food." She placed some seeds and nuts in a bowl inside my cage. Shem came up beside her, "Hello, Charlie," murmured Eden, barely managing a weak moan and loudly from where she lay in the hay.

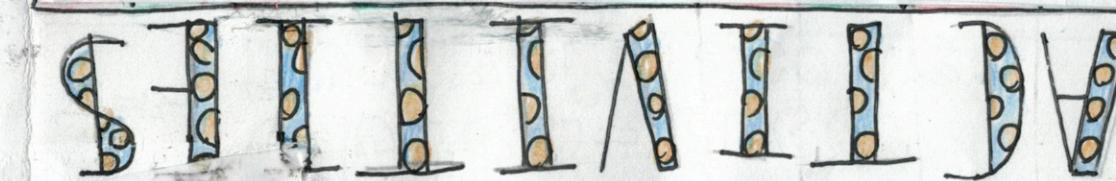

Eyes were glazed, she was breathing heavily, and she across at Charlie that I could hardly bear it. I peeked sad and afraid that I could hardly bear it. I peeked through the wire on the door of my cage. Then I remembered that Charlie was sick, may be even dying, and I remembered through the wire on the door of my cage. Then I remembered that night I lay awake wondering - What if Charlie never had anyone to talk to?

Chapter 5

by Sophia Coleman

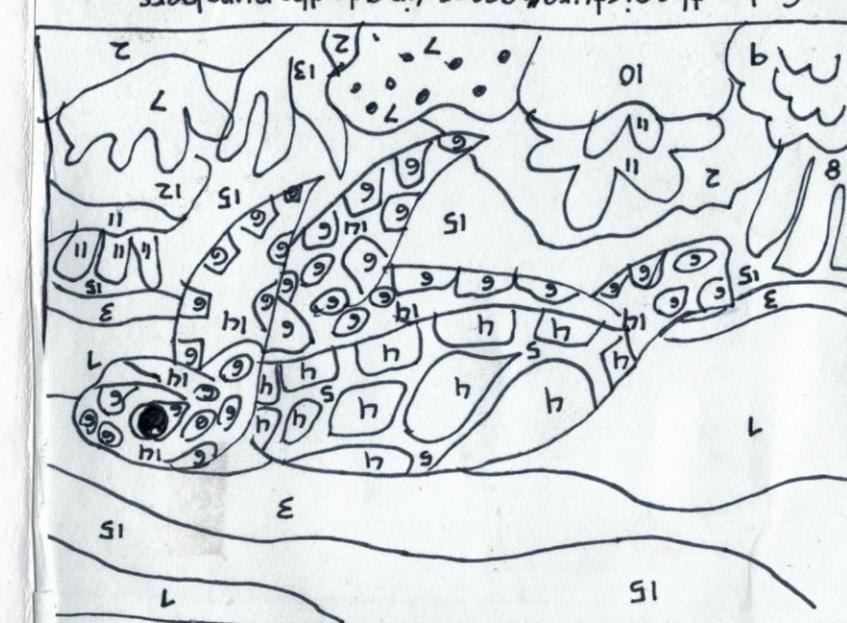

The Story of Charlie Chimpunk and his Adventures on Noah's Ark

Color-by-Number

Fit the numbers into the grid like this a crossword grid
Z numbers: 3 numbers:
18 079 2659 109 7524 55 43 13 57 64 75 85 94 98 56734 91720

Color the picture according to the numbers.
Just use the closest matches. !!
You don't have to have the exact same colors,
but use the closest matches.

Light blue	15
Light brown	11
Light green	13
Light pink	12
Green	11
Sea blue	10
Dark purple	9
Light orange	8
Red	7
Dark brown	6
Dark green	5
Dark orange	4
Light purple	3
Olive yellow	2
Light blue	1

Etiquette of the Month

USING A NAPKIN

- As soon as you are seated, take the napkin from beside your plate, unfold it, and place it across your lap. Keep it there unless you need to wipe your fingers or mouth.
- Use your napkin to wipe your fingers as needed, particularly if you are eating particularly messy items. Never lick your fingers.
- Use your napkin to cover your mouth if you start coughing or have to sneeze, but don't blow your nose on it.
- Don't wipe your entire face with your napkin; quietly blot your lips. Never wipe your face on your sleeve.
- Leave your napkin folded loosely on your seat if you have to get up from the table for any reason before the meal is over.
- When you are finished eating, fold your napkin loosely and place it beside your plate.

Adapted from 50 Things Every Young Lady Should Know by Kay West, John Bridges, and Bryan Curtis

CHALLENGES

Read

Charles Mulli
by Janet and
Geoff Benge

Write

A short story based on your favourite bible verse (or just one you like,
if you can't decide)

Lego

Build a box to hold your index cards with memory Verses (see activity H)

Outdoors

Go stargazing or Play Tree
Ball

Other

Have a card game tournament or Make a treasure
hunt

Character Challenge

Memorizing God's Word

Lookup and read each verse, then fill in the blanks.
The verses are from the ESV translation.

Deuteronomy 6:6

"And these _____ that I _____ you today shall be upon your _____."

Psalm 19:8

"The _____ of the LORD are right, _____ the _____; the _____ of the LORD is _____, enlightening the _____. "

Psalm 119:9-11

"How can a _____ man keep his way _____?
By guarding it according to your _____. With my _____ heart I seek you; let me not _____ from your commandments! I have _____ up your _____ in my _____. that I might not _____ against you."

2 Timothy 3:16-17

"All _____ is breathed out by God and _____ for teaching, for _____, for
_____, and for training in _____, that the man of _____ may be complete, equipped for every _____ work."

Ephesians 6:17

"And take the _____ of salvation, and the sword of the _____, which is the _____
of God."

LIFE

"I know of no other singing practice in the Christian life more rewarding, practically speaking, than memorizing scripture... Your prayer life will be strengthened. Your witness will be sharper and much more effective. Your mind will become alert and observant. Your confidence and assurance will be enhanced. You find scriptural passages and scriptures and outlines will be sharper and much more effective. Your mind memorizes, and every Wednesday night at church we worked on verses, and even Wednesday night at church we worked on verses. Hopefully I'll become more dedicated to reciting later, I've gotten pretty sloppy at memorizing and passing, we went on to the next verse. Now, about six years passed, we had to work on them some more. But if we mistakes, we had to memorize them. When we thought we had to go down we recited them to a leader, and if we got more than three mistakes, we had to work on them some more. But if we can recite before you finish your job.

D. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

E. Help your younger siblings memorize and review verses each day. Listen to SEEDS FAMILY WORSHIP. They make awesome songs out of Bible verses. Then try making a scripture song up yourself!

F. Listen to songs by SEEDS FAMILY WORSHIP. They set up a notebook with verses to memorize. Copy each verse, leaving space below to illustrate each passage.

G. Set up a notebook with verses to memorize. Copy each verse, leaving space below to illustrate each passage.

H. Write memory verses on index cards and carry them with you to recite while traveling in the car, waiting in line etc.

I. Review your past memory verses each day. Recite at least 5 "old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

J. "Old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

K. "I know of no other singing practice in the Christian life more rewarding, practically speaking, than memorizing scripture... Your prayer life will be sharper and much more effective. Your mind will become alert and observant. Your confidence and assurance will be enhanced. You find scriptural passages and scriptures and outlines will be sharper and much more effective. Your mind memorizes, and every Wednesday night at church we worked on verses, and even Wednesday night at church we worked on verses. Hopefully I'll become more dedicated to reciting later, I've gotten pretty sloppy at memorizing and passing, we went on to the next verse. Now, about six years passed, we had to work on them some more. But if we can recite before you finish your job.

L. Hand-copy scripture passages. Post them in prominent places where you can see and review them frequently. Use decorative writing or pictures to decorate them if you want.

M. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

N. Memorize at least one Bible verse each week. Be accountable to him/her.

O. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

P. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

Q. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

R. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

S. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

T. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

U. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

V. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

W. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

X. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

Y. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

Z. Memorize, review, and recite verses while folding laundry, was hiding dishes, cleaning house etc. See how many you can memorize tootsie rolls each day. Test them at the end of the week. Learn the verses along with them. Design a game, competition, or other fun activity to make it fun!

LESSONS FOR LIFE

H. Write memory verses on index cards and carry them with you to recite while traveling in the car, waiting in line etc.

I. Review your past memory verses each day. Recite at least 5 "old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

J. "Old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

K. "Old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

L. "Old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

M. "Old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

N. "Old" memory verses after you have worked on your new verse. Review different verses each day.

O. Hebrews 4:12

For the _____ of God is _____ and active,

Pictureing to the division of _____ and spirit,

than any two-edged _____,

than any two-edged _____,

and discerning the _____.